so few guests and so much space you can always find a quiet spot to sit back and relax and you will often feel as if you are on your own private vessel.

Fine dining

The delightful restaurant accommodates all guests in one sitting, offering the highest standard of cuisine, freshly chosen by the Cordon Bleu Chef. Lunch may be a sumptuous buffet or set menu, while dinner is always four or five courses, with full service. Accompanying the best selection of international and Russian dishes is complimentary wine, beer and soft drinks with all on board lunches and dinners. Hermitage Museum

State Armoury Museum, Moscow

Located in the Kremlin grounds, the State Armoury Museum, one of the oldest museums in Moscow, houses a unique collection of crown jewels, gems, glittering thrones, ornate carriages, ceremonial robes and an impressive collection of Fabergé eggs. Moscow's Grand Princes began storing their valuables in the Kremlin's cellars as early as the 14th century. It holds unique collections of Russian, Western European and Eastern applied arts spanning the period from the 5th to the 20th centuries.

Kizhi Island, Karelia

Tiny Kizhi Island is located in the Karelian Republic and was originally settled as a place of pagan practices. This UNESCO World Heritage Site consists almost entirely of meadows and traditional wooden buildings. The island and nearby area form a national open-air museum with over 80 historical wooden structures. The Transfiguration Church, with 22 cupolas covered in aspen wood, was built in 1714 without the use of a single nail, and represents the ultimate in Russian fairy-tale architecture.

Hermitage Museum, St. Petersburg

It was Catherine the Great's grand passion for art that transformed the Hermitage into one of the world's greatest museums. By the end of her reign, Catherine's collection was larger than any other European monarch. The museum comprises five buildings on the Neva Embankment, including the Winter Palace which was commissioned by Catherine the Great and was an imperial home until 1917. The museum currently houses a collection of more than 3 million items.
